

Peters & Associates Wins Prestigious Microsoft Award

CHICAGO – August 13, 2008 – Microsoft is pleased to announce Peters & Associates as the winner of the Partnering to Succeed Award for the second half of the 2008 fiscal year. The Partnering to Succeed Award recognizes situations where multiple partners work collaboratively to help solve customers' business challenges. This program recognizes the contributions of partners serving small, mid-market and enterprise commercial customers.

“Delivering business value is a fundamental requirement for our customers. The only way to bring the best products and talent together to achieve success is to partner.” said Tom Wiesman, Co-President of Peters & Associates. “We are very pleased to be recognized by Microsoft for our long standing ability to collaborate with other companies to deliver a complete solution to our customers.”

“We place tremendous value on our partners such as Peters & Associates, who help us deliver solutions and applications to customers,” said Mark Kornegay, Central Region general manager for managed partners for Microsoft's Small and Midmarket Solutions and Partners (SMS&P) group. “Microsoft believes Peters & Associates should be acknowledged for their great contributions and achievements.”
